MARGUERITE

LONG'S

GARDEN BOOK

SPRING 1948

GLADIOLUS

"Marguerite"

Tall and straight. No crooked "saxophone" spikes. No flecked florets.

Strong, sturdy stalk. Long flower head. Many blooms open at once.

Florets open perfectly when cut in tight bud, and hold size well to tip.

Pure watermelon pink with cream throat. Originated by Ralph J. Pommert. Parentage, Picardy x Wurtembergia.

As with Iris, many Glads excel in size or beauty. But like Iris, Elmhohr, this Glad possesses BOTH size and beauty.

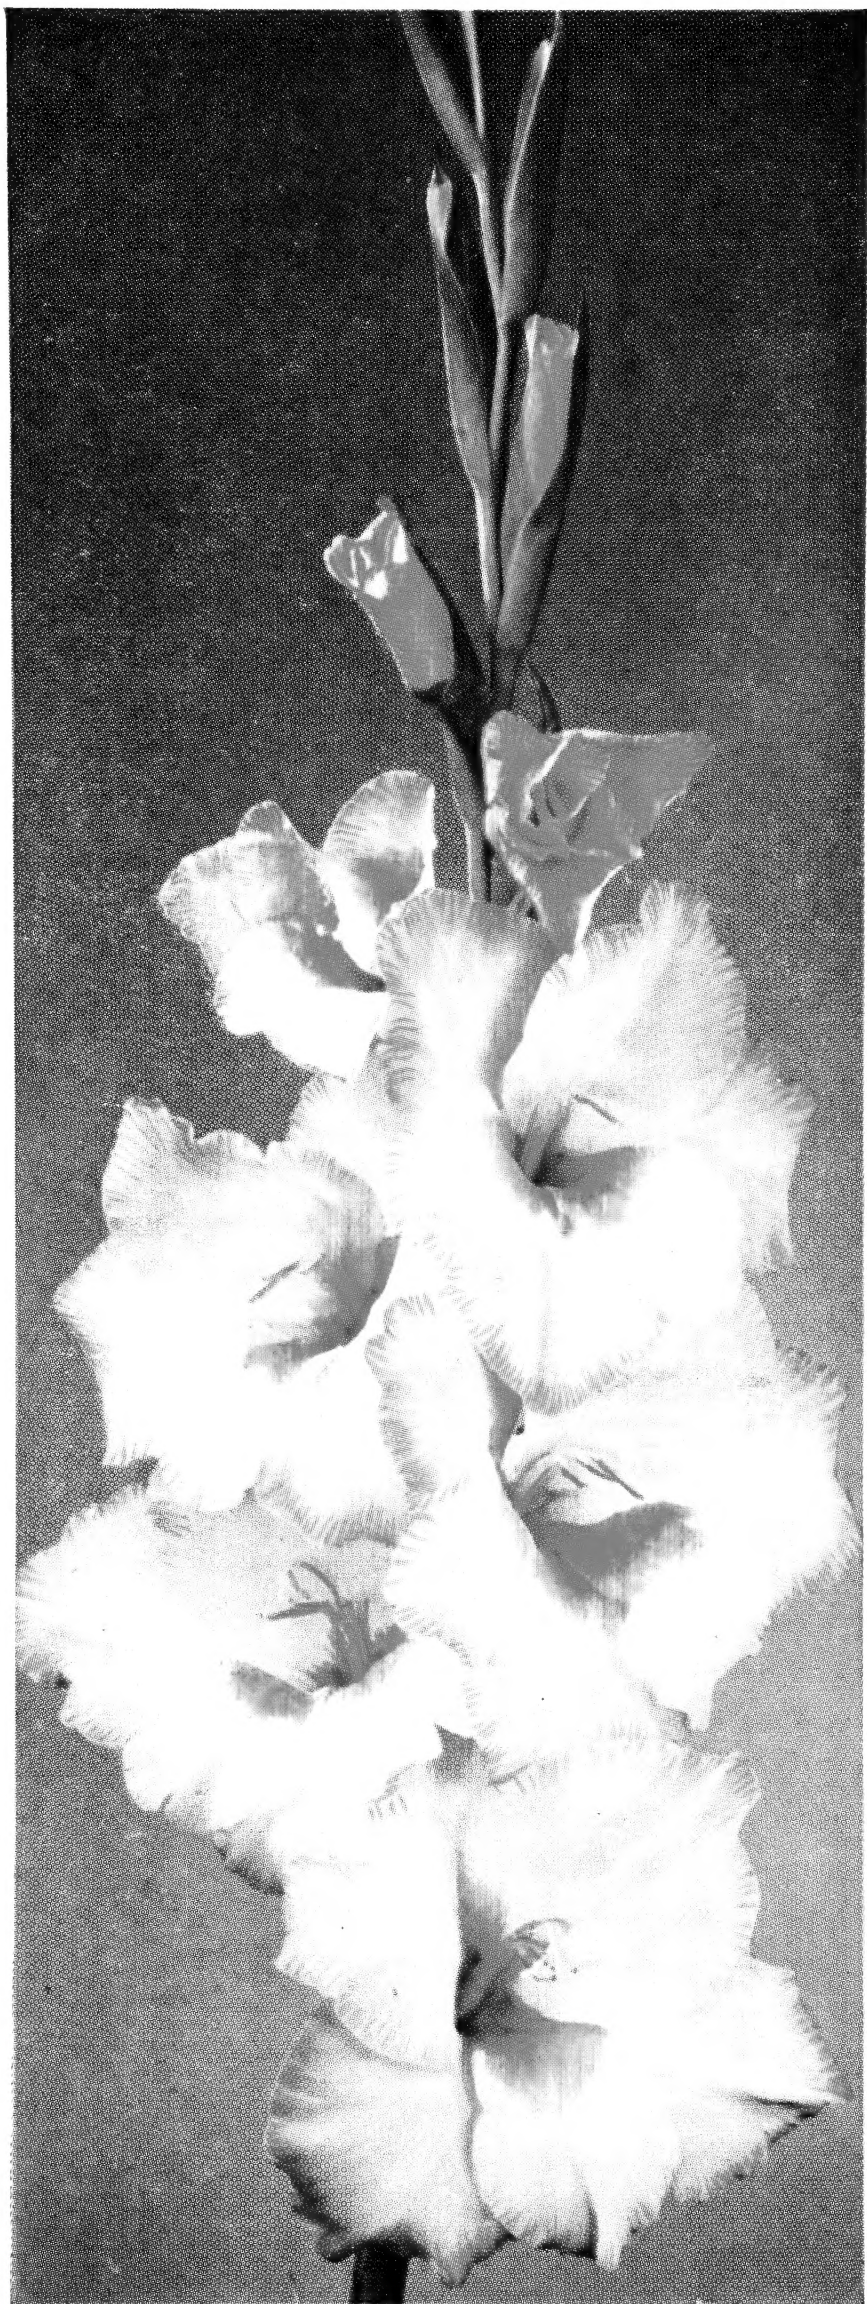

LONG'S LONG SEASON OFFERS

CORONA

GLADIOLUS CORONA

A Palmer origination. Introduced by Elmer Gove. Elmer sez, sez 'e:

Creamy white shading to a cream throat with rose picotee edge which gives it a very distinct appearance. A beautiful variety that has been selling like hot cakes.

Very tall, husky grower that you can cut with a good stem and leave plenty leaves on the plant, yet not bend down to the ground to get this long stem.

Everyone likes Corona for home use, commercial and exhibition. Opens 6 to 8 very large blooms at a time. End of quote.

Comes now Herbert O. Evans, another keen judge of Glads.

Herbert adds: Corona seems destined to climb into the "best 10" in the C.G.S. symposium as it becomes better known. Positively outstanding, sez Herbert.

JD sez: The petals being round appear even larger than they actually are. "So round, so firm, so fully packed, so easy on the eyes."

Long's Long Season Offers

Turn back to MARGUERITE. You may order Corona MIXED SIZES at same prices as for Marguerite.

GLAD GOSSIP

When I look at colored illustrations of Glads I'm reminded of that well-known definition of an optimist.

You've heard it, and often: An optimist is a guy who believes he can grow flowers and vegetables to look like the pictures on seed packets.

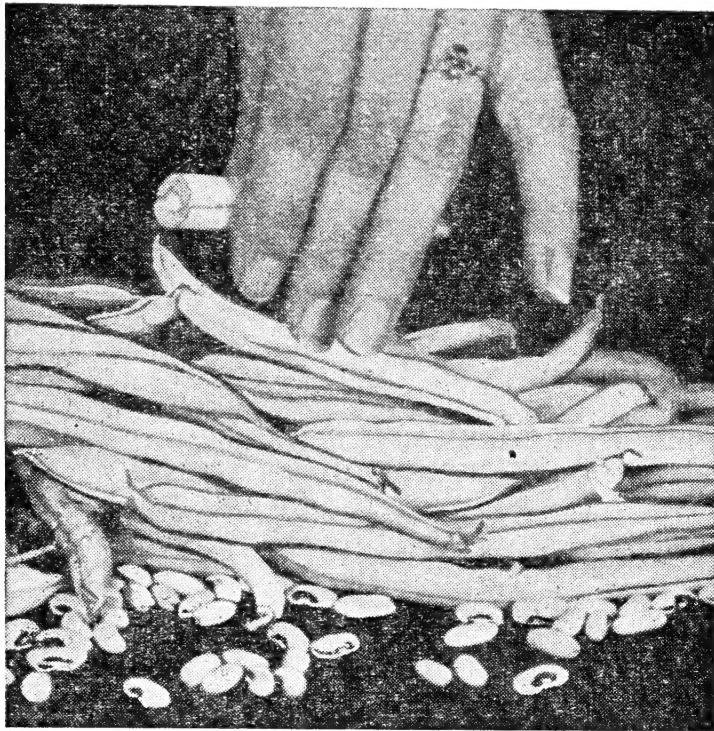

But rarely does a color print of a Glad look as lovely as the blooms in garden.

Just wait till you see MARGUERITE, for example, in all its glory.

To Make Head Lettuce Head

Lettuce will seldom head in hot weather, unless grown in shade. It is a cool weather plant, doing best very early in spring, or late in fall, as head lettuce.

Sowing head lettuce seed late in fall, just before ground freezes, is one good way to get an early start the next spring. Very early spring sowing—March or early April—is good.

Bear in mind that the ground should be good and rich, and that the plants should be thinned or transplanted to 6 to 10 inches apart. Then they should be hoed often, the oftener the better. You can't expect to pluck large solid heads of lettuce from a bed in which the plants are thick.

GREAT LAKES LETTUCE. Crisp Solid Heads, Stands Heat

ALL-AMERICAN BRONZE MEDAL WINNER. A new tight-heading, sure-to-head variety for home and market.

BRED BY KEITH C. BARRONS in cooperation with the United States Government. Introduced from the Michigan Experiment Station.

PRODUCES FINE LARGE HEADS, well rounded, very solid. Especially resistant to tipburn. Stands the longest of any lettuce without going to seed. Can be used as leaf lettuce at all stages of growth. The attractive crimped leaves are tender and delicious.

Fills a long felt want for both back yard gardeners and commercial growers. The most certain to head of all large luscious varieties, often under most adverse condition, and in hot weather. Heads best of course in cooler months. Resistant to tipburn.

The thick large leaves fold well over the head. Unlike most kinds, Great Lakes is very slow to run to seed.

IRIS: July to November

"Something New Has Been Added." Every year we add new varieties to our already wonderful list of breath-taking beautiful Iris.

Our 1948 list will contain the cream of kinds in our 1947 list, plus some new ones you have been waiting for.

Also, many prices will be reduced so much that you need not wait longer to have them in your own gardens. This applies especially to the newer kinds that are always high for a few years or more.

We dig, ship and plant in summer and fall, the ideal time for dividing the clumps and setting out the new "toes."

Our 1948 Iris catalogue (many kinds shown in colors) will be mailed around May 1st. If you received a copy last year, no need to ask for one. You are on our preferred mailing list, and will receive the 1948 one early in May.

Fight Inflation Plant a Garden

With today's ever-mounting high cost of living, the family's food dollar doesn't make much headway these days, as you have all discovered to your dismay. Seems like said dollar has hardly poked its head inside the grocery store door before it has evaporated with 'most nothing in the basket to show for it.

Seems as if things wouldn't be better very soon either. With America committed to feeding the war-ravaged countries of Europe, foodstuffs will be scarce and high-priced for a long time to come.

One way to ease the strain on the family food budget is to plant a vegetable garden. Surprising the amount of food that can be grown in a small space in the back yard. Don't take our word for it. Try it.

Use the Hoe More, Hose Less

Weeds are great bluffers. Get after them from the very beginning in a manner that will give them to understand that they might just as well give up the battle first as last. However, weeds are useful, for they keep us digging and scratching around the plants and thus give the top soil just the treatment it needs. Thus, without weeds many would forget to keep the soil so thoroughly worked.

Remember that plants need air as well as moisture. Keep the soil loose.

Furthermore, frequent stirring of the soil conserves the moisture and if you will "Use the hoe more" you will need to "Use the hose less." Most people water their plants too much and do not cultivate them enough. and for that reason I have adopted the slogan, "Use the hoe more and the hose less."

That's where you have a hose, of course. The same applies to irrigating from a ditch. Dry farmers get good results by using the hoe often. When I say hoe I mean anything from a hairpin to a tractor that will stir the soil. I use a garden rake a great deal in place of a hoe when the plants are small. With some plants you can rake right over the rows without injuring the plants. Rows of gladioli from bulblets can be raked until plants are six inches high.

Weed 'em and Reap

Don't ever let the weeds get big. Funny, isn't it, how we think we're doing something great when slaughtering big weeds, but don't feel half that glow of satisfaction if we kill 'em off when small and when it is so much easier done. But the time to get the weeds is before they take their toll from the soil's fertility. Frequent raking, hoeing and cultivating is the way to get the weeds just as sprouting.

Order Blank Not Necessary

Don't worry if can't lay hands on an order blank. Use any paper, any grade, size, color, shape, ruled or unruled.

Main point is to write your name and address plainly, first off, before you forget it. It helps us a lot if you write only one item on a line, and carry out the price at the right side the page.

1948 Glad Prices Lower

Most our Glad prices for 1948 are lower than for several years. And the bulbs run better. Best crop since before the war. You'll be surprised!

Under this heading we said in our last fall Glad folder that in case any our prices are lower spring, 1948, we will make it up by sending extra bulbs to far more than adjust in your favor. Be assured we shall do that, if you have ordered from the FALL folder.

Long's Long Count

As many of you know, until Glad bulbs became very, very scarce during and after the war, we got into the habit of sending some overcount of many kinds and sizes we could spare for this little surprise.

Can't do it with every item on an order, but Everett says the crop will enable us to fill orders liberally. "Something extra for good measure."

Glad Bulb Sizes

No. 1 bulbs measure 1½ inches in diameter or larger. No. 2 from 1¼ to 1½ inches and No. 3 from one inch to 1¼.

Large size bulbs will include some of both No. 1 and No. 2. Will not have all No. 1 nor all No. 2—some of each.

Medium size bulbs will not have all No. 3, but will include some No. 4 which range from ¾ths of an inch to one inch.

Lawn Grass Seed

LAWN GRASS SEED LOWER FOR 1948

That's really good news, thanks to a bumper crop of Ky. Blue Grass and White Dutch Clover, crop 1947.

As always, we handle only the high grade seed. Seems silly to go to all the expense of preparing a lawn for seeding, then use light weight, low germinating seed, often carrying noxious weed seeds.

More and more, lawn makers are using high quality Ky. Blue Grass seed for lawns, either alone, or by far the larger per cent of any mixture.

White Dutch Clover is the favorite pal of Ky. Blue. The clover starts quickly and holds the fort until the slower germinating Ky. Blue gets going.

One Pound Clover to 5 pounds Ky. Blue is plenty. Even half as much is often used with fine results.

Sow one pound to 300 or so square feet of Clover or Ky. Blue, or these mixed. Many sow thicker to get a lawn quickly.

New lawns should be thoroughly worked, leveled and allowed to settle.

The more care before sowing the seed the better the results. Seed will wash to the low spots and make your lawn spotted.

Sow part the seed one way and then some more crosswise, so as to avoid streaks. Rake well before and after sowing. Water gently so often that soil never dries out until lawn is green.

Old lawns should be re-seeded and fertilized from time to time. Use only the purest seed. Never be afraid of sowing too much seed, nor too often.

New Cosmos

from India

"RADIANCE"

Twelve years ago a rare Cosmos came from India to the U. S.

It was entirely different. "Something new had been added."

It had a distinct zone of two colors, both new to Cosmos.

For 11 years, skilled hybridizers worked with this wildling—crossing, selecting and reselecting.

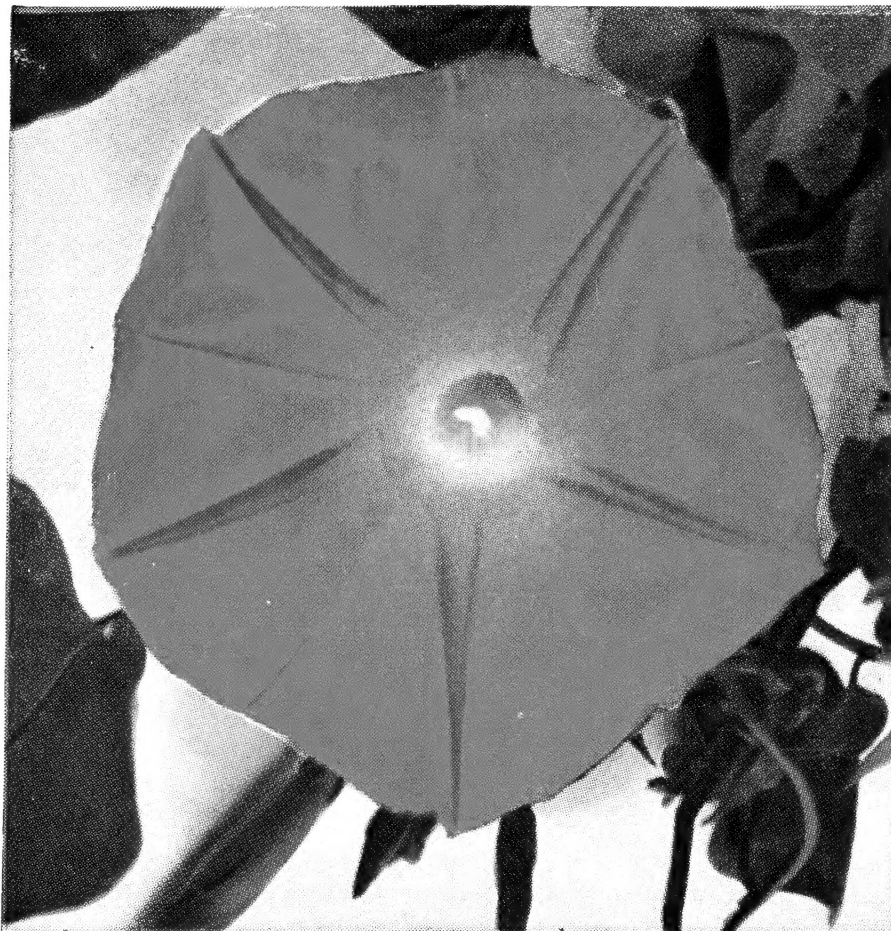

Their aim was to retain the zone and bright new colors (deep rose and crimson) while building a plant of sturdy erect habit, long cutting stems and very large blooms.

So outstanding was their achievement that RADIANCE was given one of the highest awards in the all American Selections.

Easily grown from seed sown out doors. Blooms freely a long time.

The vigor of its Indian parent gives it lasting power when cut.
